#AAGCONF18

WELCOME

Welcome to the 51st AAG Conference in Melbourne, Victoria.

As Patron of the Australian Association of Gerontology, I welcome you to the 51st Conference.

As you are very well aware Australia's population is ageing. In 2017, 15 per cent of Australians were aged 65 or over and by 2057 it is expected this figure will increase to over 20 per cent.

Our harmony, prosperity and future as a nation will depend upon how we manage the range of benefits and challenges our ageing demography brings.

The theme for this year's Conference 'Advancing Not Retiring: Active Players, A Fair Future', encapsulates the important discussions Australians need to have as we collectively get older. The commitment by AAG to bring a multi-disciplinary and evidence informed approach, through activities like this Conference, facilitate these conversations.

Our shared opportunity is to appreciate and make the most of the enormous contribution of older people to families, communities and societies and to also recognise that all older people need to be respected, valued and included in our national growth and development.

The AAG and this conference is vital to our understanding of ageing issues and I wish the Association and this conference every success.

Sir Peter Cosgrove

His Excellency General the Honourable Sir Peter Cosgrove AK MC (Retd)
Governor-General of the Commonwealth of Australia

As Chair of the 2018 Conference Committee, it is my pleasure to welcome you to Melbourne for the 2018 Australian Association of Gerontology Conference, "Advancing not retiring: Active players, a fair future".

Our theme "Advancing not retiring: Active players, a fair future" builds on previous recent AAG conference presentations where the importance of both enabling and appreciating the contributions that older people make to their families, communities and society was acknowledged. The conference theme also acknowledges that opportunities for advancement are not evenly spread across the community. Older people who are poor, homeless, speak a language other than English, are LGBTI or from Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander backgrounds are less likely to be able to advance in older age than those who have more advantages.

This year's Conference has attracted a record number of presentations that will showcase International and Australian keynote speakers.

Over the next three days, there will be over 300 presentations from emerging and renowned researchers, aged care health and allied practitioners, policy makers and other professionals working in the space of ageing who will share their experiences, research and knowledge.

The AAG Conference offers a great opportunity to catch up with colleagues and make new friends. At the same time there will be many first-time delegates to an AAG Conference and I would like to welcome you to the AAG community.

Melbourne is a vibrant and diverse city with the best coffee in the world – just ask any Melbournian! I hope you we also take the opportunity to explore a little of the world's most liveable city. Together with the speakers, committee members, I welcome you Melbourne to the 51st AAG Conference.

Associate Professor Briony Dow

2018 AAG Conference Planning Committee Chair

I am pleased to welcome all delegates to the 51st Annual Conference in Melbourne.

Everywhere we look we can see examples of fabulous older people who are 'Advancing not Retiring'. Our 2018 AAG Conference in Melbourne offers a fantastic opportunity to shed light on this theme as we present our research, practice and education about 'active players, a fair future'. As we are starting to live longer we have more time to contribute to society, and every sector of society can have a role in making ageing a time of strong engagement.

As we promote diversity and engagement for our ageing population, it is not surprising to know that these elements are highly commended highlights of the AAG conferences. AAG is the peak organisation linking researchers, educators, policy-makers, practitioners and other experts engaged in ageing issues. Our little "family" is well over 1300 members that work together to improve the experience of ageing through connecting research, policy and practice; with our conferences being the perfect vehicle to do this.

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate both Scientific and Planning committees for their energy and creativity to develop a program that highlights a diverse range of papers; from architects to gerontologists, discussing issues from the social to the clinical.

I look forward meeting you and wish you the best for a great Conference, where we "Advance, not retire".

9.00am REGISTRATION DESK OPENS

9.30am - 12.30pm (break 10:30ish) A FAIR FUTURE FOR OLDER WOMEN WHO EXPERIENCE SEXUAL ABUSE

Eureka Room 1

This workshop begins by outlining evidence on the sexual abuse of older women. It will engage participants in exploring barriers to older women reporting sexual abuse and how these can be addressed.

Facilitator: Dr Catherine Barrett, Director, OPAL Institute

Hosted by: OPAL Institute

ADDRESSING AGED CARE WORKFORCE ISSUES IN RURAL AND REMOTE AUSTRALIA

Eureka Room 2

This workshop will focus on several key questions:

- ~ To what extent do workforce issues influence access and quality in aged care in rural and remote Australia?
- ~ What are the major barriers to the recruitment and retention of an adequate, appropriate and skilled workforce in home care and residential aged care in rural and remote Australia?
- ~ How can these barriers be addressed, to ensure an adequate, appropriate, and skilled aged care workforce is in place in rural and remote Australia?

Convenors: Dr Rachel Winterton, Latrobe University, (AAG RRR Special Interest Group Convenor) and Mr Mark Diamond, CEO, National Rural Health Alliance

Facilitators: A/Prof Marguerite Bramble, Charles Sturt University (AAG Board Director) and Ms Robin Harvey, Charles Sturt University

Hosted by: AAG Regional, Rural & Remote (RRR) Special Interest Group in partnership with the National Rural Health Alliance

WORKING TOWARDS EVIDENCED-BASED REABLEMENT APPROACHES ACROSS AGED CARE SERVICES

Eureka Room 3

This workshop will explore reablement approaches and how they can be applied using an evidence-based approach across aged care; from assessment services to home and residential settings.

Facilitator: Dr Sandra South, AAG's Senior Policy and Research Officer

Hosted by: AAG

Session 1 9.30 ~ 10.45pm GEN AGED CARE DATA, A PRACTICAL WORKSHOP

Courtyard Room

This practical workshop will introduce GEN and demonstrate the full functionality of the various resources. At the end of the formal presentation there will be an opportunity for you to explore the site to answer your own questions, and AIHW staff will be available for one-on-one assistance.

Facilitator: Mark Cooper-Stanbury, Head, Disability and Ageing Unit Community Services Group Australian Institute of Health and Welfare

Hosted by: Australian Institute of Health and Welfare

1.30pm - 5.30pm 6TH ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER AGEING ADVISORY GROUP (ATSIAAG) WORKSHOP – EXPLORING APPROPRIATE AGED CARE NEEDS ASSESSMENT FOR ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER PEOPLE

Courtyard Room

This workshop will provide a forum to further explore these issues, drawing on the expertise of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people themselves, as well as service providers, researchers, and policy makers. The aim is to develop strategies to improve aged care assessment for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. These strategies have the potential to contribute to the implementation of a new national Action Plan for aged care for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

Facilitators: Graham Aitken, CEO, Aboriginal Community Services SA and Ros Malay, University of Western Australia (Co-chairs of ATSIAAG)

Hosted by: AAG's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Ageing Advisory Group (ATSIAAG)

3.30pm - 5.30pm DISRESPECTING LGBTI IDENTITY - A UNIQUE FORM OF ELDER ABUSE

Eureka Room 3

This workshop will begin with brief overviews of current research:

~ Dr Catherine Barrett will present on The Tango Project ~ a Victorian initiative that has explored the difficulties LGBTI elders experience.

~ Dr Luke Gahan will present on findings from a LGBTI workshop

Participants will then break into smaller groups for tabletop discussions about potential policy and practice responses that could inform the implementation of the National Plan to Combat Elder Abuse and the LGBTI Ageing Action Plan.

Facilitator and Hosted by: Dr Catherine Barrett, The Opal Institute
